Top 5 Counties with the highest child poverty rates

Top 5 Counties with the greatest prevelence of food insecurity among low-income households

Top 5 Counties with the highest percent of CA's Food Stamp Participants

Top 5 Counties with greatest one-year increase in the number of Food Stamp participants

Top 5 Counties with greatest one-year percent increase in Food Stamp Participants

Top 5 Counties with the worst PAI Score

* Due to small sample size statistically unstable.

2 California Health Interview Survey (CHIS) 2007. Ask CHIS http://www.chis.ucla.edu/main/default.asp. Note: CHIS only asks food insecurity questions if respondents' income is ≤ 200% Federal Poverty Level (FPL); so, prevalence only reflects food insecurity among low-income adults. Also, CHIS reports combined food insecurity estimates for smaller counties e.g. Del Norte/Siskiyou/Lassen/Trinity/Modoc/Plumas/Sierra, Tehama/Glenn/Colusa, Tuolumne/Calaveras/Amador/Mariposa/Mono/Alpine

3 Number of FSP participants in the county - includes participants in federal and state food stamp program households. Source: DFA 256 - Food Stamp Program Participation and Benefit Issuance Report http://www.dss.cahwnet.gov/research/DFA256-Foo_422.htm.

4 PAI is included because FSP participation rates (% of eligible people receiving food stamps) are not available at the county level. Source: California Food Policy Advocates. County Food Stamp Program Access Index http://www.cfpa.net/foodstamps/PAI.htm and for additional detail on methodology Shimada. (2010) "Measuring County Food Stamp Performance Using the Program Access Index to Analyze California's 58 Counties" http://www.cfpa.net/foodstamps/2008_PAI/2008_PAI.pdf "The Program Access Index (PAI) is one of the measures USDA Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) uses to assess states' performance in the administration of the Food Stamp Program. The PAI is simply the ratio of the average number of individuals participating in the Food Stamp Program to the number of individuals income-eligible to participate in each state for a particular calendar year. Because income is the only eligibility measure considered in the index, the PAI can best be seen as a measure of the extent to which low-income people are participating in the Food Stamp Program. While PAI is an incomplete measure, USDA uses PAI to evaluate and reward food stamp performance, notably the high performance bonuses established in the 2002 Farm Bill." CFPA makes two modifications to the methodology employed by USDA:
1) they had to adjust for limited income data for California's smaller counties, and 2) they make adjustments to USDA's SSI exclusion step.

Brief Summaries of Other Nutrition-Related Programs
Serving Low-Income Persons in California

 The California Obesity Prevention Plan

The California Obesity Prevention Plan: A Vision for Tomorrow, Strategic Actions for Today (COPP) was released on September 14, 2006 and serves as a guide for each sector of society to take part in creating the shift to healthy eating and active living. This plan builds on and is consistent with the Governor Schwarzenegger's "Vision for California – 10 Steps toward Healthy Living" developed in September 2005. COPP is meant to serve as a springboard for government, business, voluntary, and philanthropic sectors to convert fragmentation into collaboration and synergy, to carefully align and invest resources, and to create a shared response to a societal crisis. For more information and to access the plan online, visit: http://www.cdph.ca.gov/programs/Pages/CTCPANOP.aspx.

 CDPH CDC Nutrition, Physical Activity, and Obesity Prevention Program

In June 2008, CDPH was awarded a five-year grant through the CDC Nutrition, Physical Activity, and Obesity Program cooperative agreement (CDC-RFA-DP08-805). The funding supports the establishment of the California Nutrition, Physical Activity and Obesity Prevention (CNPAO) Program. The goals of CNPAO are to: (1) prevent and control obesity guided by COPP; (2) reduce the adverse impact of obesity-related chronic conditions and diseases; and (3) decrease obesity-related health inequities. CNPAO, along with stakeholders from across the state, has been leading development of an "enhanced" obesity prevention plan for the State of California. The enhanced plan will contain strategies and activities for collaboration among all sectors, including state and local government, employers, health care insurers and providers, families and community organizations, schools and child care, food and beverage industry, and entertainment and professional sports.

CATEGORICAL PROGRAMS OPERATED BY CALIFORNIA STATE GOVERNMENT

 Department of Social Services

The Emergency Food Assistance Program does not require or provide funding for nutrition education.

The California Food Assistance Program does not require or provide funding for nutrition education.

 California Department of Public Health and Department of Health Care Services

California's Women, Infants and Children program (WIC) provides statewide services through 82 local agencies and serves almost 1.5 million mothers, infants and children each month, with 58 percent of all infants born in California each year enrolled in the program. Based on successful experience with the federally-funded Fit WIC!, Newborn Baby Behaviors projects, and a six-fold increase in breastfeeding peer counselor funds, California is taking significant steps to address childhood obesity as early as pregnancy and infancy. According to a recent article in the New England Journal of Medicine, "Studies have shown that early interventions can potentially prevent the development of obesity in school age children." Issues that the authors state should be targeted include excessive maternal weight gain, smoking during pregnancy and truncated breast feeding, all of which are addressed through WIC's individual and group education, breastfeeding support and activity sessions. WIC coordinates closely with the Network and other partners to maximize the impact of the changes to WIC foods implemented in 2009 by marketing healthy food choices in health care, retail and child care settings, and to improve access to the new WIC foods in low income neighborhoods. WIC's Local Vendor Liaisons work directly with food retailers' services to WIC families. The Network Retail Program and WIC will continue to collaborate closely to ensure coordinated assistance to eligible retailers. WIC also serves as the lead program for the State Nutrition Action Plan (SNAP). http://www.wicworks.ca.gov

The Maternal, Child and Adolescent Health (MCAH)/ Office of Family Planning (OFP) Branch has funded special projects in nutrition and physical activity, with an emphasis on breastfeeding promotion. Obesity prevention is in the top 10 priority health indicators for federal Title V state plans. Most MCAH resources are directed to low-income groups. A goal of the MCAH/OFP Branch is that healthy eating and physical activity will be the easy and preferred lifestyle choice of all California women of reproductive age and children to the age of 21 years. Some activities include:

- Promoting healthy eating and physical activity through all Maternal, Child and Adolescent Health/ Office of Family Planning (MCAH/OFP) Branch programs and initiatives at the state and local level.
- Promoting the development of healthcare policies, training and guidelines that support healthy eating and physical activity for all programs, health care providers, schools, childcare centers, and employers.
- Supporting MCAH/OFP partners throughout the state in the development and participation in local healthy eating and physical activity related coalitions.
- Using healthy eating and physical activity epidemiological information that is obtained from multiple sources to design, implement, and evaluate initiatives that are effective and reach individuals with the most need.

The Children's Medical Services (EPSDT) has long provided State funds and exceeded federal requirements by mandating nutrition assessment and anticipatory guidance in nutrition for the estimated 3,391,953 low-income children and youth receiving preventive health care billed through the Child Health and Disability Prevention Program. A number of counties employ public health nutritionists to work with CHDP health care providers; nutrition education is loosely coordinated through this group.

California Project LEAN (Leaders Encouraging Activity and Nutrition) (CPL) is a joint program of CDPH and the Public Health Institute. The mission of CPL is to increase healthy eating and physical activity to reduce the prevalence of obesity and chronic diseases such as heart disease, cancer, stroke, osteoporosis and diabetes. CPL focuses on youth empowerment, policy and environmental change strategies, and community-based solutions. CPL will pilot an intervention designed to promote increased consumption of fruits and vegetables, physical activity and participation in foods assistance programs. Promotores de salud and other adult leaders from select communities in the Bay Area and the Central Valley will be trained on using the materials to outreach to SNAP-Ed eligible families. CPL will also build on the success of the Parents in Action! trainings to engage parents to address barriers, to improve nutrition and physical activity education opportunities, in underserved communities.

For more information, visit www.CaliforniaProjectLEAN.org.

The California Center for Physical Activity (Center) develops strategic partnerships and provides mini-grants, technical assistance, best practices and model programs to create opportunities for everyday physical activity. Center projects include the California Active Aging Network, California Walk to School Headquarters, Healthy Transportation Network, Home Zones, Local Public Health and the Built Environment Network, Safe Routes for Kids, School Siting and Joint Use Facilities, and Walkable Community Workshops. The Center is primarily funded by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Preventive Health & Health Services Block Grant. Other funding sources include the California Department of Transportation - Federal Highway Administration Transportation Enhancements and Pfizer. Aside from the collaborative work with the Network, its programs are not aimed preferentially to low-income persons or communities. For more information, visit www.caphysicalactivity.org.

School Health Connections: Funded since 1995 through an infrastructure grant from CDC/Division of Adolescent and School Health for coordinated school health, this coordinated school health initiative is a joint program between the California Department of Education and CDPH. Given CDC/Division of Adolescent and School Health's priority on obesity prevention, School Health Connections has particularly focused on the nutrition, physical activity, and healthy school environment components. School Health Connections advocates for policy and environmental change and supports linkages between health and education, and provides technical support; it does not provide direct services or target solely low-resource schools or children. For more information, visit www.dhs.ca.gov/schoolhealth.

 University of California

Center on Weight & Health, UC Berkeley – Housed jointly by the College of Natural Resources and the School of Public Health, the Center conducts research, provides training and technical assistance especially in the area of evaluation, and participates in a variety of leadership activities, principally in the area of childhood obesity prevention and control. It is funded through the University, government contracts, and foundations. For more information, visit www.cnr.berkeley.edu/cwh.

Center for Social Marketing and Nutrition, UC Davis – Funded initially by California's Cancer Research Program to assist DHS social marketing campaigns, the Center now provides training and technical assistance to Network- funded agencies, maintains a unique, on-line inventory of community nutrition and physical activity assessment instruments, and conducts applied research with Network partners, mostly focusing on understanding problems of fruit and vegetable promotion and access in low-income communities. More information is available at http://socialmarketing-nutrition.ucdavis.edu/somark.htm.

 California Department of Education

National School Lunch Program (NSLP) – NSLP is offered in approximately 11,112 public and private schools, serving an estimated 3.2 million lunches every day. In the 2008-2009, school year California received federal funding of $1.2 billion to provide a daily average of 4,412,778 meals (lunch and breakfast) in school settings. Over 77 percent of the lunches were free/reduced price. Nutrition education is encouraged but not required, and neither State nor federal funds are routinely available for nutrition education through CDE.

School Breakfast Program – In 2008-2009, school breakfast was offered in over 9,319 California schools, serve an estimated 1.2 million breakfasts every day. Over 88 percent of the breakfasts served in these schools were free/reduced price. Nutrition education is encouraged but not required, and neither State nor federal funds for nutrition education are routinely available through CDE.

Child and Adult Care Food Program (CACFP) – This program provides federal funding for meals in 27,666 child care and adult group settings. In 2008, California received $263.3 million to provide a daily average of meals to 357,084 in all settings. Neither State nor federal funds for nutrition education are routinely available through CDE.

Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) – This program provides federal and state funding for meals to children, most from low-income families, when they are out of school for 15 or more consecutive days. In 2008-2009, 3,953 California sites served meals through this program with federal funding of $14 million. In July 2008-2009, the daily participation in the SFSP was 42,268. Neither State nor federal funds for nutrition education are routinely available through CDE.

Seamless Summer Feeding Option (SSFO) – This program provides federal and state funding for meals to children, most from low-income families, when they are out of school for 15 or more consecutive days. In 2008-2009 1,527 California sites served meals through this program with federal funding of $14.7 million. In 2008-2009 the daily participation in the SSFO was 35,708.

After School Snack Program – As part of the NSLP and CACFP, Federal reimbursement is provided to organizations to provide nutritious snacks in structured after school settings to primarily children that qualify for free or reduced school breakfast and lunches. With the implementation of Proposition 49, the After School Education and Safety Program Act, state and federal investments in after school programs reached $6.5 million at over 4,714 California locations in the School Nutrition Meal Supplements Program. In 2008-2009, 349,366 snacks were served daily with 99 percent served to free/reduced children in the Meal Supplements Program. Current Education Code [Section 8482.3 (2)] requires after school programs to serve students snack foods that meet California food and beverage standards for schools. While nutrition-related programming is not a requirement of the law, funding may be directed to support nutrition education and physical activity promotion.

School Breakfast and Summer Start-Up and Expansion Grants – This State-funded program seeks to improve academic performance and support good nutrition by assisting low-resource schools in offering school breakfasts. In 2009-2010 there is $1 million plus available. Neither State nor federal funds for nutrition education are routinely available through CDE.

Schools/Child Nutrition Commodity Program – As a support for American agricultural producers, USDA purchases and provides donated commodities to NSLP and SFSP agencies. During the 2008-2009 school year, those programs received food valued at $111,941,722, or $0.2075 for each lunch served to students. California CACFP agencies receive cash payments of $14,960,141 instead of donated commodities. Although the legislation for the Commodity Program does allow for nutrition education, funding is not provided to local education agencies for this purpose.

Special Milk Program – This federal program provides funding for milk served to children in schools, child care programs and camps that do not participate in other federal child nutrition meal programs. In the 2008-2009 school years, funding of $0.1825 was available for each half-pint of milk served to students, with additional funding up to the net purchase price for milk for milk served to children who are determined to be at or below 130 percent of federal poverty guidelines. In 2008-2009, $573,960 was provided for milk served to children at 334 sites in California.

State Matching Funds – In the 2008-2009 school year, this State- matching funds provided $215.9 million funding for school breakfasts and lunches served free and at a reduced-price to students by schools and child care programs. California schools are required to provide meals to students from low-income households while they are attending school.

USDA's Team Nutrition - Team Nutrition (TN) is an initiative of the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Food and Nutrition Service (FNS) to support Child Nutrition Programs through training and technical assistance for foodservice, nutrition education for children and their caregivers, and school and community support for healthy eating and physical activity. In 1999, Congress discontinued appropriating funds for Nutrition Education and Training (NET) Programs altogether and replaced it with TN, a limited program of competitive grants. Grant funding has increased over the years from approximately $200,000 to $350,000 per award.

In 2007 and 2008, the California Department of Education (CDE) received funds to initiate programs that are described in more detail under their specific project names below. In 2010, the CDE submitted an application for funds to design, implement, and assess the impact of Stepping up to the Challenge: Healthy School Environment Training and Technical Assistance (HSE) conducted through five Healthy School Environment Institute teams (HSEI). This proposal develops a HSEI leadership program to implement the HealthierUS School Challenge (Challenge) throughout California and builds upon both the 2007 and 2008 TN activities. California's Challenge implementation will be supported by Farm to School initiatives, garden-based nutrition education, and a systems approach to necessary leadership change.

Shaping Health As Partners in Education (SHAPE) California - Shaping Health As Partners in Education (SHAPE) California is an initiative that supports the coordinated school health model. Currently, there are over 225 districts working together to improve the health and academic success of California school children. The SHAPE California approach includes: offering healthy meals in child nutrition programs; promoting comprehensive, sequential nutrition education; applying school nutrition policy and practices; and building and maintaining partnerships within the school and neighboring community that support comprehensive nutrition services. The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) requires schools to participate in SHAPE as one criterion to receive a Network Local Incentive Award.

California Healthy Kids Resource Center - The California Healthy Kids Resource Center (CHKRC) maintains a comprehensive collection of health, nutrition, and food service education materials for use by teachers, administrators, child nutrition staff, other professionals, parents, and community personnel who work with students in preschool through grade twelve. The primary funding for the CHKRC is from the CDE (School Health Connections Office, the Healthy Kids Office, and the Nutrition Services Division). The Network provides supplemental funding aimed at supporting the provision of suitable materials for its FSNE-eligible school partners.

Strategic Assessment of the Child Care Nutrition Environment - Reducing rates of overweight and obesity among Californians of all ages continues to be a priority for Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger and the State Superintendent of Public Instruction Jack O'Connell. Both leaders recognize that efforts to change nutrition and physical activity environments in a state as large and diverse as California cannot be pursued effectively by only one agency or organization. Cooperative efforts are already underway to build on public and private partnerships to improve nutrition and increase physical activity in California's schools and communities. Now work is needed to expand these efforts to include child care settings.

Joining forces, Superintendent O'Connell and the Secretary of the California Health and Human Services Agency (CHHS), Kim Belshé, convened a stakeholder group of child care experts from state and local child care and development agencies and advocacy groups. Superintendent O'Connell and Secretary Belshé charged the Strategic Assessment of the Child Care Nutrition Environment Advisory Group with (1) conducting a strategic assessment of factors associated with poor nutrition, inactivity, and overweight among young children; and (2) providing recommendations on how best to improve nutrition and increase physical activity in child care settings.

The executive summary, Keeping Children Healthy in California's Child Care Environments: Recommendations to Improve Nutrition and Increase Physical Activity was published in June 2009 and contains the policy recommendations created by the advisory group. The full report will be published in summer 2010. A link to the executive summary report can be found on the CDE Web site at: http://www.cde.ca.gov/ls/nu/he/documents/keepchildhealexecsumm.pdf.

Nutrition Education Competencies Resource Guide - The Nutrition Education Competencies Resource Guide provides nutrition education policy and standards, selected nutrition education curricula and instructional materials, and useful ideas, guidelines and resources to help create an excellent nutrition education program. The purpose of the guide is to assist California schools, grades K-12, implement standards-based, effective nutrition education programs for their students.

The nutrition education curricula and instructional materials recommended in this guide were reviewed for alignment with the California Health Education Content Standards and the 2010 Nutrition Competencies. Users of this guide can use these references to plan their instructional strategies for a comprehensive nutrition education program. This resource guide is primarily intended for use by curriculum directors and lead teachers, as well as nutrition education coordinators and specialists, who plan nutrition education in elementary, middle and high schools.

The NSD will publish the guide through the CDE Press in early 2012. A partnership between the CDE and the CDPH's Network for a Healthy California will support the funding for this project and together, the departments will use the document through both CDE and Network trainings. The CDE will provide it to schools in projects with a nutrition education component, such as the 2010 TN Grant and the Healthier US School Challenge (HUSSC).

Food for Thought - Food for Thought is a nutrition education curriculum for preschoolers, it was developed by a Head Start agency using TN funds. The CDE adopted and published the curriculum in 2009. The curriculum contains 36 hands-on lesson activities that introduce young children to a variety of dairy foods, vegetables, fruits, breads and cereals, and protein foods. The curriculum is consistent with the CDE's Preschool Learning Foundations, a policy document for early childhood educators.

While teaching young children about nutrition the curriculum integrates the educational domains such as math, science, language and literacy concepts. Through a 2009 California Department of Food and Agriculture, Specialty Crop Grant, the CDE will offer statewide training during FFY 2011 on the Food for Thought to child care agencies. The CDE expects to train approximately 500 child care staff in about 250 agencies; thereby, influencing the diets of both preschoolers and their families.

Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program - The purpose of the federal Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program (FFVP) is to provide an additional fresh fruit or vegetable snack to students during the school day as a supplement to (not part of) the school breakfast and lunch programs, and to teach students about good nutrition. The CDE administers the grant program in the state, and selected schools receive a year long grant (June-July) to implement the program. California first participated in the FFVP in July 2008 with 24 pilot schools, and the program continues to grow each year.

The 2008 Farm Bill amended the National School Lunch Act by adding Section 19, The Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program, which permanently authorized the FFVP nationwide with significant funding. States are required to fund only elementary schools with 50 percent or more eligible for free and reduced price meals. The Farm Bill allows funding for the FFVP through 2011-12 school year, with increased funding each year.

California received $5 million for the 2009-10 school year and funded 143 schools ($60 per student/year). A list of currently funded FFVP school sites is on the CDE Web site at http://www.cde.ca.gov/fg/fo/r9/ffvp09result.asp.

California will receive $7.6 million for the 2010-11 school year to fund 60-70 more schools, for a total of over 200 schools. Existing grantees need to complete a FFVP grant application each year to continue the program. The 2010-11 FFVP grant applications were due April 1, 2010. The 2010-11 awardees list will be posted on the CDE Web site in May 2010.

Minimum requirements to apply for a school grant include:

- Be an elementary school
- Operate the National School Lunch Program.
- Have 50 percent or greater of enrolled students eligible for free and reduced price meals; priority given to those with the highest percentage
- Have documented support of the food service, principal, and district superintendent
- Implement the FFVP according to the USDA guidelines. The FFVP Handbook (USDA, August 2008) for schools can be downloaded at the USDA FNS FFVP Web page at http://www.fns.usda.gov/cnd/ffvp/Resources/FFVPhandbookFINAL.pdf (outside source)

HealthierUS School Challenge - The HealthierUS School Challenge (HUSSC) was established by the USDA Food Nutrition Services to recognize elementary, middle, and high schools that are creating healthier school environments through their promotion of good nutrition and physical activity. Four levels of superior performance are awarded and now, through September 30, 2010, the USDA is offering monetary award incentives with each level: Bronze ($500), Silver ($1,000), Gold ($1,500), and the Gold Award of Distinction ($2,000).

To qualify for an award, a school must submit a formal application and meet or exceed basic criteria set forth by the FNS. The HUSSC criteria reflect the recommendations of the 2005 Dietary Guidelines for Americans for foods that should be served in schools and outside of the organized school lunch meals. HUSSC schools must also have a local school wellness policy as mandated by Congress.

To receive a HealthierUS School Challenge award, a school must:

- Participate in the National School Lunch Program (NSLP), and be a Team Nutrition (TN) school. The application to enroll as a TN school is on the TN Web site at http://teamnutrition.usda.gov/team.html (outside source)
- Offer reimbursable lunches that are consistent with the Dietary Guidelines for Americans and meet USDA nutrition standards
- Support the local wellness policy efforts of its school district
- Meet or exceed HUSSC criteria established for:
    - Average Daily Participation in the NSLP
    - Nutrition standards for meals and competitive foods and beverages
    - Nutrition education
    - Physical education and activity

The CDE encourages all schools to apply for an award. The HUSSC information and application is available on the TN HUSSC Web page at http://teamnutrition.usda.gov/HealthierUS/index.html (outside source).

Award-winning schools are recognized with a cash award, a framed certificate, and an award banner from the USDA to showcase their achievement. HUSSC schools also receive national recognition by being listed on the TN Web site. Awards are certified for four years from the date of approval.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables: A Centerpiece for a Healthy School Environment Training - The Fresh Fruits and Vegetables: A Centerpiece for a Healthy School Environment (FFVCHSE) fall and spring trainings were offered 26 times during the 2009-10 school year. The Power Play Campaign was featured in the spring trainings and the Harvest of the Month program was featured in both spring and fall trainings, as experiential nutrition education resources available to schools and community youth organizations. The topics at the FFVCHSE focused on reinforcing fresh fruit and vegetable consumption through components of a healthy school environment – foods offered on campus, garden-enhanced nutrition education, experiential nutrition education, composting (nutrient cycles); and food and agriculture literacy.

The content for the fall 2009 trainings was: nutrition education promoting fruit and vegetable consumption; garden-enhanced nutrition education; academic connections to nutritious school gardens; greening school campuses: gardening, composting; team-building and communication strategies to support your effort; connecting schools with local farms; serving and promoting seasonal fruit and vegetable snacks; and safe culinary skills from garden to classroom.

 California Department of Food and Agriculture

The Dairy Council of California, a large California agriculture marketing order, has developed and sponsors proven-effective nutrition/physical activity curriculum and education materials for schools at four developmental levels: pre-K, grades 1-2, grades 3-5, and grades 6-8, as well as after school, K-6. For more information, go to www.dairycouncilofca.org.

The California School Garden Network (CSGN), is part of the Western Growers' Foundation, a non-profit organization with the mission to create healthy farms, individuals and communities. Western Growers Foundation promotes sound science, food safety, and nutrition education. The California School Garden Network is a collaboration of state agencies, private companies, educational institutions and non-profit organizations including CDFA, the Network, CDE, Foundation for Agriculture in the Classroom, and California Integrated Waste Management Board. CSGN serves as a central hub to distribute school garden resources and support throughout the state. In addition the statewide leadership provided by CSGN, there are also a number of CSGN Regional Networks throughout the state to promote school gardens, provide training, communications, and technical assistance in their local areas.

CSGN has developed a website as a collaborative effort to compile school garden resources, research, and contacts and make them available in one location. The CSGN first released Gardens for Learning - Creating and Sustaining Your School Garden in October of 2006 as a guidebook targeted to educators to help them develop, maintain and provide instruction in school gardens. First Lady Maria Shriver provided a foreword for the guidebook and was present during a CSGN school garden makeover day in LA. The Network provided partial funding for these resources. Plans are underway to revise both the book and website to reflect new resources and update information.

This statewide school garden initiative includes nutrition education to low-resource schools as part of school gardens.

* The California Children and Families Commission

In 1998 California voters passed Proposition 10, adding a 50-cent tax to each pack of cigarettes sold in California to create First 5 California, also known as the California Children and Families Commission. First 5 California is dedicated to improving the lives of California's young children and their families through a comprehensive system of education, health services, childcare, and other crucial programs. First 5 California's mission is to be recognized as California's unequivocal voice for children 0 to 5 to ensure greater equity in their readiness for school (by 2012). Based on county-specific birth rates, First 5 California distributes funds to local communities through the state's 58 counties, all of which have created their own local First 5 County Commissions to address community needs. Eighty percent of the annual Proposition 10 revenues are allocated to the 58 County Commissions, while the remaining 20 percent funds the state's overall guiding programs, mass media and public relations campaign, and administrative costs.

While all County Commissions implement some form of nutrition and physical activity efforts through existing programs and partnerships, approximately 30 of 58 also report engaging in and/or investing in distinct nutrition and physical activity programs; many County Commission efforts are implemented in collaboration with locally funded Network projects. Also, the State Commission kicked off an obesity prevention mass media public awareness campaign in 2005/2006. The campaign built on and supported existing WIC and Network initiatives. In 2008, the State Commission extended its campaign, releasing "Yummy for your Tummy," an English/Spanish cookbook targeting parents with young children, this resource was also distributed during the Network's 2009 Annual Conference; specifically during the preconference meeting on Early Nutrition and Physical Activity. Another extension of the Commission's investments in the health of young children is its Hands-on Health Mobile Van which promotes public awareness and education around a variety of issues including basic nutrition and physical activity, oral health, and medical coverage. Importantly, several Regional Networks partner with First 5 County Commissions to implement nutrition education initiatives that directly reach SNAP-Ed-eligible Californians (e.g., the Bay Area and Northcoast Regions' Rethink Your Drink Campaigns). In partnership with the First 5 Association of California (a statewide organization representing and comprised of the 58 County Commissions), the Network is working to address gaps in nutrition education services for young, SNAP-Ed-eligible children and their families.

INTRA- AND INTER-GOVERNMENTAL INFRASTRUCTURE TO COORDINATE EFFORTS AMONG PROGRAMS

* California Conference of Local Health Officers (CCLHO) – The mission of CCLHO, a statutorily-established advisory body to CDPH that convenes the 61 legally appointed physician Health Officers in California, is to prevent disease and improve the health of all California residents. The Conference provides a state/local forum for the discussion of significant health issues in order to develop recommendations for appropriate health policy and programs. One of CCLHO's priority areas is the promotion of healthful behavior, including healthy eating and physical activity, to prevent chronic diseases such as heart disease, cancer, and diabetes. The CCLHO Chronic Disease Committee brings together Health Officers and local health department staff from a variety of programs to discuss chronic illness prevention, learn from State and other experts, and share best practices.

 California Conference of Local Health Department Nutritionists (CCLHDN) – CCLHDN is an affiliate of CCLHO. Its members lead local public health nutrition program planning and services. Duties typically include administering a variety of federal, state and locally-determined nutrition and physical activity promotion programs. CCLHDN advises CCLHO and CDPH on public health nutrition policies, programs, and issues. It works with the Network on increasing nutritionists' technical capacity to build county-wide nutrition-related infrastructures, especially for services and environmental conditions that promote fruit and vegetable consumption, physical activity, food security, and obesity prevention among low-income groups and in geographical areas. Several counties are also implementing CNAPs, County Nutrition Action Plans, to promote consumption of fruits and vegetables through partnerships and collaborative interventions between the nutrition assistance programs and other related groups. The CNAPs are supported through SNAP and the annual CCLHDN conference.

 Steering Committee of the *Network for a Healthy California — The Network Steering Committee (NSC) provides a unique and necessary function for the efficient, cost-effective delivery, coordination, and collaboration of FSNE projects across the state. The NSC also provides a key venue to receive program guidance from CDSS and USDA, coordinate with UC Davis FSNEP and other FNS programs serving food stamp eligible Californians. Quarterly meetings and teleconferences are conducted to highlight best practices and support the collaboration of FSNE funded programs by maximizing planning; coordinating Network and Fruit, Vegetable, and Physical Activity Campaign FSNE activities; and providing support for program administration, partnership and organizational development.

 Interagency Food Assistance Committee, IFAC -- Convened by CDSS, the quarterly IFAC meetings provide an opportunity for interagency dialogue to support increased participation in the Food Stamp Program and to advance the delivery of Food Stamp Nutrition Education. Participants include EFAP and research in CDSS, the Network and WIC in CDHS, UC Davis's Food Stamp Nutrition Education Program, and CDE's Nutrition Services Division.

 Food Stamp Nutrition Education and Outreach Participation Committee, FANOut – Convened quarterly by CDPH, FANOut includes external stakeholders and government agencies, including USDA, to work together on Food Stamp outreach, promotion and Food Stamp Nutrition Education. In addition to the four departments serving on IFAC, FANOut participants include representatives from USDA, community based organizations, county Food Stamp directors, the Center for Advanced Studies in Nutrition and Social Marketing, and representatives from the Network's local food and nutrition projects.

 The Coordinating Office for Obesity Prevention – CDPH has established the Coordinating Office for Obesity Prevention (CO-OP) to coordinate and track the multiple and diverse efforts of the various state agencies, departments, industry and the public sector. CO-OP builds on the strengths of existing department programs and helps plan and coordinate strategic policy development, and leverage new program resources within the public and private sectors. CO-OP works to track obesity prevention activities and efforts to highlight best practices and promote efficiencies and improved outcomes. Working with the CDPH Obesity Prevention Group (OPG), an interdepartmental advisory committee, CDPH monitors progress toward implementation of the California Obesity Prevention Plan and support the Governor's Health Care Reform Initiative (HCR) proposals as they relates to obesity prevention.

 State Nutrition Action Plan (SNAP) – Since 2003, California's state level FNS-funded partners have collaborated in the development and implementation of the State Nutrition Action Plan (SNAP) to strengthen their collaboration on nutrition education and promotion efforts. The California team identified one common statewide nutrition education goal and developed a collaborative cross-program plan that FNS-funded programs work together to plan, implement, and achieve. The goal selected for California's SNAP continues to be "to promote consumption of fruits and vegetables through partnerships and collaborative interventions between the nutrition assistance programs and other related groups". State agencies collaborating to implement SNAP include: California Department of Public Health (WIC, Network), California Department of Social Services (Food Stamps), California Department of Education (Nutrition Services Division), University of California (Food Stamp Nutrition Education, Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program), and California Department of Food and Agriculture. A Memorandum of Understanding defines roles for agencies. Funding to implement planned activities is drawn from each program's ongoing budget. In addition, SNAP is implemented at the county level as the County Nutrition Action Plan (CNAP) and supported with WIC funding. At this time there are nine counties implementing CNAP. Specifics are found on the USDA website.

 Strategic Assessment of the Child Care Nutrition Environment

The California Health and Human Services Agency (CHHSA) and CDE brought together child care stakeholders from various state agencies, local child care and development agencies, and various advocacy groups to undertake a strategic assessment and develop policy recommendations for improving nutrition and physical activity in preschools and child care facilities. Efforts to change the child care nutrition and physical activity environments in a state as large and diverse as California can not be effectively pursued by only one agency or organization. Therefore, CHHSA and CDE convened this multi-agency stakeholder advisory group to develop policy recommendations designed to combat childhood overweight.

During a series of meetings that began in August 2007, the advisory group has (1) discussed the latest scientific evidence related to factors contributing to childhood overweight and reviewed successful interventions designed to prevent or reduce the problem; (2) reviewed results from stakeholder surveys describing knowledge and attitudes relating to childhood overweight and perceived barriers to change; and (3) developed and prioritized 10 high level draft policy recommendations for improving nutrition and physical activity in preschools and child care facilities. The advisory group finalized draft policy recommendations in February 2008. A summary of the recommendations will be provided to CHHSA Secretary Kim Belshé and Superintendent Jack O'Connell for their review and action in Summer 2008.

 Governor's Council of Physical Fitness and Sport – Re-established in 2005 by Governor Schwarzenegger, this leadership group of celebrity athletes will provide a visible focal point for statewide promotion and advocacy. In the past, the Council took a special interest in promoting sport among inner city and disadvantaged youth. The Council challenges school students to be physically active and provide yearly spotlight awards to highlight local physical activity efforts. The Council does not receive any State funding.

 California Task Force on Youth and Workplace Wellness – Established by State Senator Tom Torlakson, this Task Force has provided a focal point for raising awareness of low-income nutrition and physical activity issues, initiating the annual Fit Business Awards that recognize best practices, and otherwise advancing nutrition, physical activity and obesity prevention. By serving on this Task Force, CDPH staff has helped to implement special low-income efforts as part of the Task Force's priority.

The Network will have access to the curriculum used by the FSNEP group to ensure no overlap. There is a possibility of collaboration where the Network could use curriculum (i.e. Farm to Fork) for their 'RootsNFruits Roadshow" from FSNEP. The Network would provide the direct education and FSNEP would follow up and provide resources to educators (with the train the trainer model) including additional lessons and materials buillding on the original education conducted by the Network.
