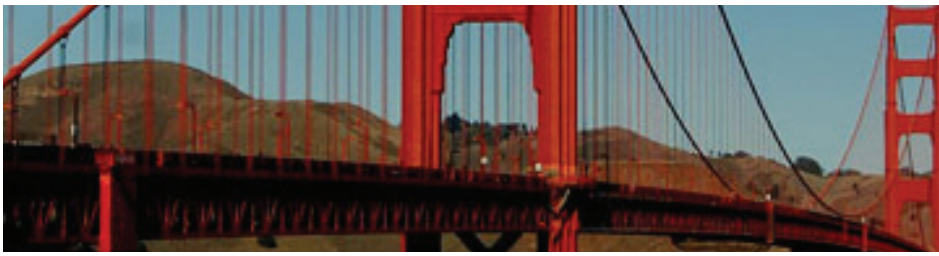
California AIDS Clearinghouse CATALOG

A Collection of Educational Materials for HIV/AIDS/STD Education, Prevention, Counseling, Testing, and Care Programs in California



04/16

California AIDS Clearinghouse (CAC)

CAC assists in reducing the spread of HIV infection by developing and providing appropriate and culturally sensitive educational materials, free-of-charge, to local health jurisdictions and community-based care/prevention programs conducting structural, individual, and group-level HIV/AIDS risk-reduction interventions in the California Project Area*.

All materials in this catalog were made available using federal funding and have been approved as specified in the California Department of Public Health's Document Review Guidelines and recommended by a statewide HIV/AIDS Materials Review Panel as outlined in the "Content of AIDS-Related Written Materials, Pictorials, Audiovisuals, Questionnaires, Survey Instruments, and Educational Sessions in Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Assistance Programs" (Interim Revisions, June 1992).

Since HIV is spread primarily through sexual practices or by sharing needles, materials in this catalog may not be appropriate for viewers outside of the materials' intended target population(s).

Methods of Ordering

To ensure you have the most recent catalog, please visit www.cdph.ca.gov/programs/AIDS/pages/OACAC.aspx each time you order. Send your completed order sheet via FAX to (916) 449-5800, via e-mail to CACOrders@cdph.ca.gov, or by mailing it to the address on the order sheet found at the back of the catalog.

To avoid delays, be sure to include all of the information asked for on the order sheet.

There is a maximum of 10 items per order.
Each item, unless otherwise stated, has a maximum quantity order of 100.

Orders tend to be processed in 2-3 weeks.

Due to a reduction in funding, some materials in the catalog may be out of stock.
These items may be restocked as funding becomes available.
Thank you for your patience and understanding.

*Funding guidelines define the California Project Area as all of California except the counties of Los Angeles (excluding the City of Long Beach), Marin, San Francisco, and San Mateo. If you are in these counties, please contact your local health jurisdiction for HIV/AIDS/STD educational materials.

PUB255/A230 (Currently Out of Stock)

Check It Out

Brochure: This material lists common STDs, their symptoms, and treatment options and offers a clear connection between HIV and STDs. The piece also covers how easily you can become infected with HIV if you already have a STD and vice-versa.

PUB160/A222

For Our Health

Booklet: Printed with a larger, easy to read font, this material is a comprehensive piece that answers many HIV/AIDS questions for individuals over the age of 50.

PUB293/A220

¿Preocupado?

Wallet Card: This material is intended for the monolingual Spanish speaking population living in rural areas and/or campesinos. It speaks to the importance of getting tested for HIV and other STDs and encourages the reader to get treatment if they are infected.

PUB155/A210

¿Positivo o Negativo?

Poster: This piece promotes the importance of HIV testing for monolingual Spanish speaking men and women. It also encourages the reader to return for their test results. It is useful for display at outreach venues to promote testing programs and facilities.

PUB159/A221

HIV Inside/El VIH Desde Adentro

Book: This bilingual material contains information on HIV/AIDS for the incarcerated population. It details modes of transmission, methods of prevention, and describes the stigma one may face as an HIV-positive inmate. The material utilizes slang and prison terms, making it more relatable and easier to understand for the targeted population.

PUB221/NA100

HAWK

CD: This material, designed by and for Native American youth and young adults can be used to motivate Native Americans to make healthy choices that reduce the risk of HIV/STDs and unplanned pregnancy.

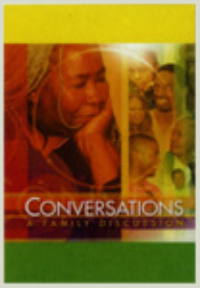
Maximum Order: 10

PUB222/NA101

HAWK: Reloaded

CD: This material, developed by Native American youth is intended to motivate youth to make healthy choices that will reduce the risk of HIV/AIDS/STD infections within their communities. It features Native American artists who promote prevention education through the tradition of "putting back into the circle." It is recommended for outreach, individual, or group level interventions.

Maximum Order: 10



PUB237/TA101

Conversations: A Family Discussion

DVD: This material was designed to encourage honest and open dialogue about HIV/AIDS in the African American community and to increase awareness about prevention, testing, and self-care. The included leader's guide describes potential discussion topics which may arise in a "Conversations" group.

Maximum Order: 1

PUB276/A239

Breaking Traditions

Brochure: This material addresses crystal meth use and HIV within the Asian community from a family perspective.

MATERIALS

PUB257/A225

Clear About Crystal?

Booklet: This straightforward piece targets people who are addicted to meth and in denial. It gets them to recognize and acknowledge their risky and life-threatening behaviors. It advises them to stop meth abuse and seek help now, no matter which stage of addiction they are in.

TA103

The Risks of the Job

DVD: This video is intended for law enforcement officers. It is a documentary showing how officers can reduce their risk of needle-stick injury on the job. Officers visit needle exchange sites on their beat and discuss ways that Syringe Exchange Programs (SEPs) help keep law enforcement officers and their communities safer.

PUB282/PWP100

Living Poz

Brochure: This material, targeting HIV-positive people, provides information on what it means to be HIV-positive, how to live a fulfilling life with HIV, as well as making choices to protect oneself and his or her partners. The messages are presented in a sensitive manner with appropriate images in an 8-panel format. This material works well as a complimentary brochure to "Following Your Plan" (PUB264/PWP204).

PUB224/P175

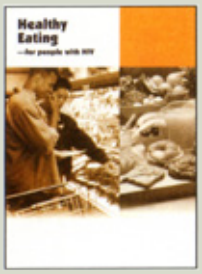
Living Well with HIV: A Self-Care Handbook

PUB225/P176

Vivir Bien Con el VIH: Practico de Salud

Booklet: These materials were designed for people in the early stages of HIV infection. They provide checklists, forms, charts, and a handbook that is a great resource for family, friends, and caregivers to help develop a customized health plan. Topics include: dealing with mental health issues, working with healthcare providers, utilizing nutrition and exercise, dealing with medication, and preventing additional infections. These materials are recommended for use by service providers to educate and assist newly diagnosed clients in managing their HIV-related health issues.

MATERIALS



PUB231/PWP205

Healthy Eating: For People with HIV

Booklet: This material addresses the nutritional concerns of HIV-positive people. It provides the basics of a well-balanced diet and advises the reader on how to combat specific HIV symptoms and medication side effects through dietary changes. The material is used to educate people with HIV on how eating well can help them stay healthier and fight off opportunistic infections. This material is only recommended for individual or group level interventions under case management with a nutritionist/dietician who specializes in persons living with HIV.

PUB264/PWP204

Following Your Plan

Brochure: This material targets HIV-positive individuals and provides information for maintaining a healthier lifestyle. It offers helpful tips on organizing a medication plan, scheduling appointments, meal planning, and building a support system. This material works well as a complimentary brochure to "Living Poz" (PUB282/PWP100).
