<http://cdph.ca.gov/data/gismaps/data/Pages/GISDay2011.aspx>

9:15 am Welcome; CDPH GIS updates Anne Millington, HISP and Svetlana Smorodinsky, EHIB

10 am “Health Care Providers and GIS” Henry Rodriguez, L&C
This presentation discusses health facilities and GIS, and what it means for Californians.

11 am “New Developments in California’s GIS Landscape” Featured Guest: Scott Gregory, California GIO

12 noon CDPH first ever  Richmond vs. Sacramento, real-time!

1 pm “Drinking Water Systems Geographic Reporting Tool” Craig Wolff, CEHTP, EHIB
This presentation discusses the application that captures drinking water system service area boundaries and offers a live demonstration of its primary features.

2 pm “Adventures in Geocoding: An example of utilizing CDPH geocoding tool and manual geocoding for spatial analysis” Lauren Joe, EHIB and Randy Reyes, UCLA (EHIB intern)
This presentation describes how we geocoded death data for spatial analysis, challenges we encountered along the way, and pointers for others who may be embarking on a geocoding adventure of their own.

3 pm “Emergency Preparedness and Response” Anne Millington, HISP
GIS growth in our programs is both exhilarating and daunting, given our Spartan resources. Software advances and new tools for data sharing make it possible to use these resources to their best advantage. Emergency preparedness and response best illustrate this.
