As follow-up to the January 2008 CCLHO/CHEAC conference on Chronic Disease Prevention in Local Health Departments in Sacramento, this regional workshop is one in a series that will further examine the interplay between Chronic Disease and Social Determinants of Health.

Specifically, this workshop seeks to:

- ❖ Map causal pathways for chronic illness
- ❖ Explore current programs along the continuum
- ❖ Consider existing programs and interventions under the social determinants of health framework
- ❖ Connect participants with health departments across the region who are doing similar work
- ❖ Develop an action plan for local health departments
- ❖ Identify future workshop and web conference content

Who should attend?

- ❖ Health Officers
- ❖ Public Health Directors
- ❖ Chronic Disease Program Managers
- ❖ Other Program Managers whose work intersects with chronic disease (WIC Directors, Nursing Directors, MCAH Directors, Health Education Directors, etc.)
