Narrative

The California Association of Food Banks (CAFB) will subcontract with 16 Food Banks and five additional non-profit organizations to distribute nutrition education materials, conduct nutrition education classes and nutrition education food tastings at food bank member agencies, Kid's Café Programs, Afterschool and Summer Lunch Programs and mobile produce pantries. Some CAFB subcontractors will host an agency nutrition conference for member agencies serving low-income people, others will include nutrition education in their annual agency conferences. CAFB subcontractors use a wide range of strategies and materials that focus on preparing healthy meals with very low-incomes and with donated foods, including foods donated through California's Farm To Family Project and the Emergency Food Assistance Program (EFAP).

e. Summary of Research.

See Section A, Needs Assessment Data Sources.

f. Modification of Project Methods/Strategies.

Added new partners, added new sites

g. Use of Existing Educational Materials.

See attached Existing Materials/Curricula data sheet.

h. Development of New Educational Materials.

See attached New Materials data sheet.

i. Key Performance Measures/Indicators.

We will capture process measures to determine whether subcontractors have completed activities in SOW.

3. EVALUATION PLANS

See Section B Introduction, Objective 8.

4. COORDINATION EFFORTS

CAFB will continue to coordinate with CDSS Commodity Food Distribution Program and CAFB Farm To Family Produce Distribution Programs - both administered by local, participating food banks. Many Nutrition Education subcontractors are also CAFB Food Stamp Outreach Subcontractors. We will continue to encourage coordination between Food Stamp Outreach and Nutrition Education activities, however many subcontractors are wary of violating the USDA funding firewall so coordination between these two programs is difficult. Finally, all subcontractors are required to participate in their regional collaborative and Network trainings.

Narrative

CSU, Chico's Sierra Cascade Nutrition and Activity Consortium (SCNAC) is comprised of 40 community and school partners in six north state counties. SCNAC's programs emphasize strategies for increasing fruit and vegetable consumption and daily physical activity and provide both the funding resources and training for rural communities to better meet the dietary needs of their residents. Examples of SCNAC activities include the school library based 'Smart Bodies - Smart Minds' program integrating nutrition education related children's books with the Harvest of the Month program; the 'Lunch Leagues' program whereby university students provide lunchtime nutrition education in the cafeteria and promote physical activity afterwards on the playground; peer-mediated teaching with high school students providing nutrition education to K-6 students; 'Treats for Trade' holiday candy exchange for nutrition education reinforcement items; promotion of school and community vegetable gardens; community based nutrition education programs by county departments of public health; support for four County Office of Education programs, all reaching the afterschool and preschool target audience; and providing culturally appropriate nutrition education and activity promotion services for Sierra Cascade Region Hispanic, Native American and Hmong families.

e. Summary of Research.

See Section A, Needs Assessment Data Sources.

f. Modification of Project Methods/Strategies.

Improving Cultural Relevancy; Enhancing/Updating Existing Strategies; Utilizing Research/Program Evaluation Results; Changing Audience Participation; Adding New Partners

All modifications are approved by the Network.

g. Use of Existing Educational Materials.

See attached Existing Materials/Curricula data sheet.

h. Development of New Educational Materials.

See attached New Materials data sheet.

i. Key Performance Measures/Indicators.

SCNAC will collect process data on all objectives in the Scope of Work. In addition, SCNAC will conduct at least two impact evaluation studies. One will measure improvement in school and community staff attitudes toward incorporating nutrition education in the classroom as part of daily activities. Another will measure grade 4 - 12th students' preferences and consumption patterns for fruits and vegetables.

3. EVALUATION PLANS

See Section B Introduction, Objective 8.

4. COORDINATION EFFORTS

CSU Chico's SCNAC has previously initiated and continues to participate in the Butte County Interagency Nutrition Council (INC) comprised of UCCE, UCCE, SCNAC, Power Play! and Sierra Cascade Regional Network staff. SCNAC partners with the UCCE, the regional Power Play! Program, and the Regional Network on a myriad of projects each year. In addition, SCNAC has created the Tehama/Glenn County INC comprised of the same entities. SCNAC itself is a coordinating entity comprised of organizations from 6 counties including county departments of public health, county offices of education, county First 5 commissions, tribal organizations, child care resource and referral organizations, and school districts

Title	Description	Justification
Monthly posters for HOTM	Poster depicting HOTM produce item, agriculture link, where produce grows, picture of plant or tree, and nutrition facts	These posters are placed in school cafeterias for the entire month. The students learn the basic nutrition facts and how the produce grows by seeing the poster every day. We have unpaid interns producing the posters with the information extracted from the HOTM newsletters. The only cost for the posters are printing costs. For contract year 07-08, we have requested to purchase a plotter which will enable us to print these posters in-house to further reduce costs. We would lbe happy to share these posters with other LIAs.

Title	Description	Justification
Monthly bookmarks linked to HOTM	Bookmarks depicting HOTM produce item, nutrition information and interesting facts along with a fun activity for the students. All information is pulled from the Network HOTM newsletters. We often add the fun activity from other resources.	These bookmarks are very inexpensive to produce. Students are exposed to the information as they complete the bookmark activity and while reading the HOTM book of the month.
HOTM banner	Banner promoting HOTM program personalized to school site with their school mascot and fruits and vegetables	Banner will be placed at school entrance during the week of HOTM tasting to increase excitement with HOTM program. This placement will also spark discussion within families of the HOTM program.
Student created posters linked to HOTM	High school art classes, both traditional and computer graphics, create posters depicting monthly HOTM	Project involves students with fruit and vegetable promotion with peers and community; posters are judged by school and community members and winners are viewed by public at local café downtown.
Native American Banner	Banner depicting culturally relevant food based model for California based Native American Indians	This banner will be posted during teaching of Native American tribes of their specific traditional or regional foods

Narrative

The Central Valley Health Network's (CVHN) goal is to provide nutrition education that promotes the recommended intake of F/V, 30 minutes for adults and 60 minutes for children/day of PA, as well as improved food access to food stamp eligibles. To accomplish this, CVHN will distribute English/Spanish newsletters bi-monthly to health center clientele and community members highlighting the above. CVHN nutrition educators will distribute Food Stamp promotion materials to health center clients. CVHN will collaborate with community organizations to conduct nutrition education and PA promotion activities at qualifying community sites. We will provide health center based individual and/or classroom-setting nutrition education and PA promotion. Coordinators will participate in a Network impact evaluation training. Health centers will be able to measure the adoption of the F/V and/or PA recommendations and related factors either through pre and post-measures or annual surveillance with a representative sample of health center clients. CVHN will communicate the Network program activities and its benefits regarding disease prevention to healthcare providers through presentations at at least two staff meetings per health center per year or by including this information in a health center based newsletter. CVHN will acquire and apply basic media communication knowledge/skills by attending Network media trainings. Staff will communicate with their target audience through local media at least once per year.

e. Summary of Research.

f. Modification of Project Methods/Strategies.

We have not modified our methods/strategies

g. Use of Existing Educational Materials.

See attached Existing Materials/Curricula data sheet.

h. Development of New Educational Materials.

See attached New Materials data sheet.

i. Key Performance Measures/Indicators.

Process evaluation: # of News Bulletins, # of Food Stamp Promotion Materials, and # of media communications delivered to target audience. # of food demos, # of classes, # of individual education sessions, # of unduplicated participants (adult and children) in all above mentioned FSNE activities. # of staff/healthcare providers updated on nutrition education and nutrition services offered. Impact evaluation: the measurement of the adoption of F/V and or PA recommendation, and related factors, through pre and post measures or annual surveillance with representative sample of health center clients.

3. EVALUATION PLANS

See Section B Introduction, Objective 8.

4. COORDINATION EFFORTS

CVHN member health centers collaborate with 4 Network Regional Collaboratives (SC CHAMP, HEAL, CVHNC, and DSHN) . They also collaborate with local UC Cooperative Extensions (sharing resources/best practices and providing an audience for UC classes). CSV supplements WIC activities by collaborating with Kern Medical Center to promote good nutrition and breastfeeding to FSNE-eligible women (written agreement w/ WIC attached). All member health centers complement community health fairs directed at our target audience by providing nutrition education and PA promotion.

Narrative

The Network for a Healthy California - Chinese Project continues to develop partnerships with over 20 community agency partners, to plan and implement project activities to food stamp eligible populations in San Francisco County, including but not limited to the Chinese speaking communities. Partners include the American Cancer Society, American Heart Association, Chinese Community Health Resource Center, City College of San Francisco, Kai Ming Head Start, San Francisco WIC Program, Self Help for the Elderly, Wu Yee Children's Services, YMCA Chinatown, Chinatown Child Development Center, Asian Family Support Center, Chinese Hospital, Commodore Stockton Child Development Center, NICOS Chinese Health Coalition, On-Lok Senior Health Services, Newcomers Health Program, University of California Cooperative Extension, Community Youth Center, Excelsior Family Connections, Chinatown Beacon Center, and numerous community based organizations. Project activities include nutrition classes, community workshops, in-service training for professionals, participation in 1-2 State media promotional campaigns or statewide initiatives, media interviews and press releases. In addition, the project will provide resources, along with technical assistance for partnering agencies to promote nutrition and physical activity when planning and conducting summer camp activities. Project staff will participate in regional trainings and meetings such as the Bay Area Nutrition and Physical Activity Collaborative (BANPAC) and Annual Network Conference. Project will also identify "Champions for Change" in the Chinese community in accordance with the established Network guidelines and feature them in success stories for sharing with the community.

e. Summary of Research.

See Section A, Needs Assessment Data Sources.

f. Modification of Project Methods/Strategies.

Enhancing/Updating Existing Strategies; Adding New Partners; Featuring "Champions for Change" in success stories

All modifications are approved by the Network.

g. Use of Existing Educational Materials.

See attached Existing Materials/Curricula data sheet.

h. Development of New Educational Materials.

See attached New Materials data sheet.

i. Key Performance Measures/Indicators.

Participant knowledge and satisfaction surveys (or pre & post questionnaires) will be used as a major tool to evaluate various nutrition and physical activity promotion classes targeting specific groups of the low income Chinese population. Project outreach activities, especially disseminated through media channels to the Chinese communities, will be tallied accordingly from inquires via phone calls, letters, and walk-ins.

3. EVALUATION PLANS

See Section B Introduction, Objective 8.

4. COORDINATION EFFORTS

Network messages will always be promoted in activities coordinated by the Network for a Healthy California – Chinese Project through community workshops, nutrition and physical activity promotion classes, promotional flyers, posters, press releases, and other educational materials. The Chinese Project will work with local community coalitions such as BANPAC and Chinese Project Joint Advisory Council to carry out the project's objectives. The project staff will also attend trainings, meetings, and conferences sponsored by the Network and will participate in Network supported campaigns to ensure project's messages are in line with other USDA funded projects
