

California Food Recall Information

Recall Name

Wisconsin Firm Recalls Bacon Bit Products For Possible Listeria Contamination

| Recall Date | Product Description | Recalling Firm | Recall Reason |
|-------------------------------------|---|---|--|
| 1/3/2009 | Patrick Cudahy is recalling approximately 3,590 pounds of bacon bit products that may be contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes . | Patrick Cudahy of Cudahy, Wisconsin. | The recalled products may be contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes . Consumption of food contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes can cause listeriosis, an uncommon but potentially fatal disease. |
| Recall Class | Product Identification | Distribution | Affected Dates |
| CLASS I RECALL Health Risk: High | The following products are subject to recall: [View Labels] -10-pound cases of "Golden Crisp APPLEWOOD SMOKED PRECOOKED BACON TOPPINGS." The products bear the establishment number "EST. 28" inside the USDA mark of inspection as well as a printed Julian date of "8318." -10-pound cases of "John Morrell APPLEWOOD SMOKED PRECOOKED BACON TOPPINGS." The products bear the establishment number "EST. 28" inside the USDA mark of inspection as well as a printed Julian date of "8318." | Distributed to restaurant and institutional establishments in California, Colorado, Florida, South Dakota, Texas and Wisconsin. | The bacon bit products were produced on Nov. 13, 2008. |

FOR ADDITIONAL INFORMATION, PLEASE CLICK HERE:

http://www.fsis.usda.gov/News_&_Events/Recall_001_2009_Release/index.asp