Amend Section 70217 as follows:

70217. Nursing Service Staff.

(a) Hospitals shall provide staffing by licensed nurses, within the scope of their licensure in accordance with the following nurse-to-patient ratios. Licensed nurse means a registered nurse, licensed vocational nurse and, in psychiatric units only, a ~~licensed~~ psychiatric technician. Staffing for care not requiring a licensed nurse is not included within these ratios and shall be determined pursuant to the patient classification system.

No hospital shall assign a licensed nurse to a nursing unit or clinical area unless that hospital determines that the licensed nurse has demonstrated current competence in providing care in that area, and has also received orientation to that hospital's clinical area sufficient to provide competent care to patients in that area. The policies and procedures of the hospital shall contain the hospital's criteria for making this determination.

Licensed nurse-to-patient ratios represent the maximum number of patients that shall be assigned to one licensed nurse at any one time. "Assigned" means the licensed nurse has responsibility for the provision of care to a particular patient within his/her scope of practice. There shall be no averaging of the number of patients and the total number of licensed nurses on the unit during any one shift nor over any period of time. Only licensed nurses providing direct patient care shall be included in the ratios.

Nurse Administrators, Nurse Supervisors, Nurse Managers, and Charge Nurses, and other licensed nurses shall be included in the calculation of the licensed nurse-to-patient ratio only when those licensed nurses are engaged in providing direct patient care. When a Nurse Administrator, Nurse Supervisor, Nurse Manager, Charge Nurse or other licensed nurse is engaged in activities other than direct patient care, that nurse shall not be included in the ratio. Nurse Administrators, Nurse Supervisors, Nurse Managers, and Charge Nurses who have demonstrated current competence to the hospital in providing care on a particular unit may relieve licensed nurses during breaks, meals, and other routine, expected absences from the unit.

Licensed vocational nurses may constitute up to 50 percent of the licensed nurses assigned to patient care on any unit, except where registered nurses are required pursuant to the patient classification system or this section. Only registered nurses shall be assigned to Intensive Care Newborn Nursery Service Units, which specifically require one registered nurse to two or fewer infants. In the Emergency Department, only registered nurses shall be assigned to triage patients and only registered nurses shall be assigned to critical trauma patients.

Nothing in this section shall prohibit a licensed nurse from assisting with specific tasks within the scope of his or her practice for a patient assigned to another nurse. "Assist" means that licensed nurses may provide patient care beyond their patient assignments if the tasks performed are specific and time-limited.

(1) The licensed nurse-to-patient ratio in a critical care unit shall be 1:2 or fewer at all times. "Critical care unit" means a nursing unit of a general acute care hospital which provides one of the following services: an intensive care service, a burn center, a coronary care service, an acute respiratory service, or an intensive care newborn nursery service. In the intensive care newborn nursery service, the ratio shall be 1 registered nurse:-2 or fewer patients at all times.

(a)(2) through (a)(7) No change to text

(8) In a hospital providing basic emergency medical services or comprehensive emergency medical services, the licensed nurse-to-patient ratio in an emergency department shall be 1:4 or fewer at all times that patients are receiving treatment. There shall be no fewer than two licensed nurses physically present in the emergency department when a patient is present.

At least one of the licensed nurses shall be a registered nurse assigned to triage patients. The registered nurse assigned to triage patients shall be immediately available at all times to triage patients when they arrive in the emergency department. When there are no patients needing triage, the registered nurse may assist by performing other nursing tasks. The registered nurse assigned to triage patients shall not be counted in the licensed nurse-to-patient ratio.

Hospitals designated by the Local Emergency Medical Services (LEMS) Agency as a "base hospital," as defined in section 1797.58 of the Health and Safety Code, shall have either a licensed physician or a registered nurse on duty to respond to the base radio 24 hours each day. When the duty of base radio responder is assigned to a registered nurse, that registered nurse may assist by performing other nursing tasks when not responding to radio calls, but shall be immediately available to respond to requests for medical direction on the base radio. The registered nurse assigned as base radio responder shall not be counted in the licensed nurse-to-patient ratios.

When licensed nursing staff are attending critical care patients in the emergency department, the licensed nurse-to-patient ratio shall be 1:2 or fewer critical care patients at all times. A patient in the emergency department shall be considered a critical care patient when the patient meets the criteria for admission to a critical care service area within the hospital.

Only registered nurses shall be assigned to critical trauma patients in the emergency department, and a minimum registered nurse-to-critical trauma patient ratio of 1:1 shall be maintained at all times. A critical trauma patient is a patient who has injuries to an anatomic area that-: (1) require life saving interventions, or (2) in conjunction with unstable vital signs, pose an immediate threat to life or limb.

(a)(9) through (a)(12) No change to text

(13) The licensed nurse-to-patient ratio in a psychiatric unit shall be 1:6 or fewer at all times. For purposes of psychiatric units only, "licensed nurses" also includes ~~licensed~~ psychiatric technicians in addition to licensed vocational nurses and registered nurses. Licensed vocational nurses, ~~licensed~~ psychiatric technicians, or a combination of both, shall not exceed 50 percent of the licensed nurses on the unit.

(a)(14) No change to text

(b) In addition to the requirements of subsection (a), the hospital shall implement a patient classification system as defined in Section 70053.2 above for determining nursing care needs of individual patients that reflects the assessment, made by a registered nurse as specified at subsection 70215(a)(1), of patient requirements and provides for shift-by-shift staffing based on those requirements. The ratios specified in subsection (a) shall constitute the minimum number of registered nurses, licensed vocational nurses, and in the case of psychiatric units, ~~licensed~~ psychiatric technicians, who shall be assigned to direct patient care. Additional staff in excess of these prescribed ratios, including non-licensed staff, shall be assigned in accordance with the hospital's documented patient classification system for determining nursing care requirements, considering factors that include the severity of the illness, the need for specialized equipment and technology, the complexity of clinical judgment needed to design, implement, and evaluate the patient care plan, the ability for self-care, and the licensure of the personnel required for care. The system developed by the hospital shall include, but not be limited to, the following elements:

(1) Individual patient care requirements.

(2) The patient care delivery system.

(3) Generally accepted standards of nursing practice, as well as elements reflective of the unique nature of the hospital's patient population.

(c) No change to text

(d) In addition to the documentation required in subsections (c)(1) through (3) above, the hospital shall keep a record of the actual registered nurse, licensed vocational nurse and ~~licensed~~ psychiatric technician assignments to individual patients by licensure category, documented on a day-to-day, shift-by-shift basis. The hospital shall retain:

(d)(1) No change to text

(2) The record of the actual registered nurse, licensed vocational nurse and ~~licensed~~ psychiatric technician assignments by licensure category for a minimum of one year.

(e) through (q) No change to text

(d) through (f) No change to text

(g) No drugs shall be administered except by licensed personnel authorized to administer drugs and upon the order of a person lawfully authorized to prescribe or furnish. This shall not preclude the administration of aerosol drugs by respiratory ~~therapists~~ care practitioners. The order shall include the name of the drug, the dosage and the frequency of administration, the route of administration, if other than oral, and the date, time and signature of the prescriber or furnisher. Orders for drugs should be written or transmitted by the prescriber or furnisher. Verbal orders for drugs shall be given only by a person lawfully authorized to prescribe or furnish and shall be recorded promptly in the patient's medical record, noting the name of the person giving the verbal order and the signature of the individual receiving the order. Justification for Change

Health and Safety Code sections 1275 and 131200 grant the California Department of Public Health (Department) the authority to adopt, amend, enforce or repeal any reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary to enable the Department to implement the duties conferred upon it by the Legislature. Existing regulations under Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations reference the licensure, registration, accreditation or certification requirements for various types of health care professionals who provide services in facilities and agencies licensed by the Department. The proposed regulations are nonsubstantive revisions to update references to these requirements; update the names of Boards, Departments or Associations that license, register or accredit these health care professionals; and, when necessary, the titles of these professionals. CDPH has no statutory authority to amend the licensure, registration, accreditation or certification requirements or titles of these health care professionals. Therefore, where these requirements are referenced in the proposed amendments, CDPH references the applicable statute(s) and/or Board, Department or Agency that licenses, registers, accredits or certifies these various health care professionals.

Additional nonsubstantive revisions were made to correct grammatical and typographical errors, and to update the authority and reference notes to eliminate citations to inapplicable statutes and to add citations to recently enacted or amended statutes.

The proposed regulations adopt or amend the following sections of Title 22:

Section 70055. Personnel.

Subsection 70055(a)(1) is deleted here and renumbered as (a)(35) in order to keep the terms in alphabetical order.

Subsection 70055(a)(2) is renumbered as (a)(1).

Subsection 70055(a)(3) is renumbered as (a)(2), and the spelling of "master's" is corrected.

Subsection 70055(a)(4) is renumbered as (a)(3), and is amended to change the name "Board of Medical Examiners" to "Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology and Hearing Aid Dispensers Board," the name of the board that licenses audiologists.

Subsection 70055(a)(5) is renumbered as (a)(4).

Subsection 70055(a)(6) is renumbered as (a)(5).

Subsection 70055(a)(7) is renumbered as (a)(6).

Subsection 70055(a)(8) is renumbered as (a)(7).

Subsection 70055(a)(9) is renumbered as (a)(8).

Subsection 70055(a)(10) is renumbered as (a)(9).

Subsection 70055(a)(11) is renumbered as (a)(10).

Subsection 70055(a)(12) is renumbered as (a)(11), and is amended to change the name "Board of Dental Examiners" to "Dental Board of California," the name of the board that licenses dentists.

Subsection 70055(a)(13) is renumbered as (a)(12), and is amended to add the phrase "who meets the qualifications specified in section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code" to conform to law. The phrases "a person who is registered or eligible for registration as" and "by the American Dietetic Association" are deleted, as this language is no longer applicable. At the time the Department adopted this section, no statutory standards existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a dietitian. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a dietitian when providing services in a general acute care hospital. In 1982 the Legislature enacted section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be able to represent himself or herself as a dietitian (Ch. 501, Stats. 1982). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as dietitians in a general acute care hospital meet the standards specified in section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

Subsection 70055(a)(14) is renumbered as (a)(13).

Subsection 70055(a)(15) is deleted here and renumbered as (a)(28) in order to keep the terms in alphabetical order.

Subsection 70055(a)(16) is renumbered as (a)(14), and is amended to change the name "Board of Vocational Nurse and Psychiatric Technician Examiners" to "Board of Vocational Nursing and Psychiatric Technicians," the name of the board that licenses licensed vocational nurses.

Subsection 70055(a)(17) is renumbered as (a)(15).

Subsection 70055(a)(18) is renumbered as (a)(16).

Subsection 70055(a)(19) is renumbered as (a)(17), and is amended to delete the phrase "certified as a nurse anesthetist by the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists" and to add "licensed by the Board of Registered Nursing as a certified registered nurse anesthetist (CRNA)," the name of the board that licenses certified registered nurse anesthetists, and the correct title "registered nurse anesthetist." At the time the Department adopted this subsection, no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a certified registered nurse anesthetist, and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a certified registered nurse anesthetist when providing services in a general acute care hospital. In 1983 the Legislature enacted the Nurse Anesthetist Act, sections 2825 et seq. of the Business and Profession Code, and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as a certified registered nurse anesthetist (Ch. 696, Stats. 1983). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as certified registered nurse anesthetists in a general acute care hospital be licensed and certified by the Board of Registered Nursing, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

Subsection 70055(a)(20) is renumbered as (a)(18), and is amended to delete the phrase "certified or eligible for certification as an occupational therapist registered by the American Occupational Therapy Association," and to add "licensed as an occupational therapist by the California Board of Occupational Therapy," the name of the board that licenses occupational therapists. At the time the Department adopted this subsection, no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be an occupational therapist, and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered an occupational therapist when providing services in a general acute care hospital. In 2000 the Legislature enacted the Occupational Therapy Practice Act, sections 2570 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code, and created the California Board of Occupational Therapy and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as an occupational therapist (Ch. 986, Stats. 2000). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as occupational therapists in a general acute care hospital be licensed by the California Board of Occupational Therapy, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

Subsection 70055(a)(21) is renumbered as (a)(19), and is amended to delete the phrase "certified or eligible for certification as a certified occupational therapy assistant by the American Occupational Therapy Association," and to add "licensed as an occupational therapy assistant by the California Board of Occupational Therapy," the name of the board that licenses occupational therapy assistants. At the time the Department adopted this subsection, no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be an occupational therapy assistant, and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered an occupational therapy assistant when providing services in a general acute care hospital. In 2000 the Legislature enacted the Occupational Therapy Practice Act, sections 2570 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code, and created the California Board of Occupational Therapy and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as an occupational therapy assistant (Ch. 986, Stats. 2000). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as occupational therapy assistants in a general acute care hospital be licensed by the California Board of Occupational Therapy, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

Subsection 70055(a)(22) is renumbered as (a)(20), and amended to delete "American Board of Orthotists and Prosthetists Certification" and add "American Board for Certification in Orthotics, Prosthetics, and Pedorthics," the name of the board that certifies orthotists and prosthetists.

Subsection 70055(a)(23) is renumbered as (a)(21), and is amended to change the name "Board of Pharmacy" to "California State Board of Pharmacy," the correct name.

Subsection 70055(a)(24) is renumbered as (a)(22), and is amended to change the name "Physical Therapy Examining Committee of the Board of Medical Examiners" to "Physical Therapy Board of California," the name of the board that licenses physical therapists. The word "registered" is deleted before the title "physical therapist," as a physical therapist is licensed and not registered.

Subsection 70055(a)(25) is renumbered as (a)(23), and is amended to change the name "Physical Therapy Examining Committee of the Board of Medical Examiners" to "Physical Therapy Board of California," the name of the board that approves physical therapist assistants.

Subsection 70055(a)(26) is renumbered as (a)(24), and is amended to change the name "Board of Medical Examiners" to "Medical Board of California," the name of the board that licenses physicians, and to change the name "Board of Osteopathic Examiners" to "Osteopathic Medical Board of California," the name of the board that licenses osteopathic physicians.

Subsection 70055(a)(25) is moved from subsection 70055(a)(44), and is amended to define physician's assistant to mean a person licensed as a physician's assistant by the Physician Assistant Committee of the Medical Board of California.

Subsection 70055(a)(27) is renumbered as (a)(26), and is amended to change the name "Board of Medical Examiners" to "California Board of Podiatric Medicine," the name of the board that licenses podiatrists.

Subsection 70055(a)(28) is renumbered as (a)(27) and is amended to change the name "Board of Medical Examiners" to "Medical Board of California" the name of the board that licenses physicians, and to change the name "Board of Osteopathic Examiners" to "Osteopathic Medical Board of California," the name of the board that licenses osteopathic physicians.

Subsection 70055(a)(28) is renumbered from (a)(15) and amended to delete the word "licensed" in "licensed psychiatric technician," as "psychiatric technician" is the correct title, and to change the name "Board of Vocational Nurse and Psychiatric Technician Examiners" to "Board of Vocational Nursing and Psychiatric Technicians," the name of the board that licenses psychiatric technicians.

Subsection 70055(a)(33)(B) is amended to add the word "licensed" to the nurse midwife definition as nurse midwives are licensed registered nurses certified under Article 2.5 of Chapter 6 of the California Business and Professions Code.

Subsection 70055(a)(34) is amended to change "Registered Record Administrator" to "Registered Health Information Administrator," the correct title. "Registered as a health information administrator" is added to the phrase "Registered Health Information administrator means a person who is," to make the sentence read correctly. "American Medical Record Association" is deleted and "American Health Information Management Association" is added as the name of the association that registers health information administrators.

Subsection 70055(a)(35) is renumbered from (a)(1) and amended to change "Accredited Record Technician" to "Registered Health Information Technician," the correct title, and "American Medical Record Association" to "American Health Information Management Association," the name of the association that registers health information technicians. The phrase "accredited as such" is deleted and the phrase "registered as a health information technician" is added to make the sentence read correctly.

Subsection 70055(a)(35) is renumbered as (a)(36), and is amended to change "Respiratory Therapist" to "Respiratory Care Practitioner," the correct title. The phrase "registered or eligible for registration as a respiratory therapist by the American Association for Respiratory Therapy or the National Board for Respiratory Therapy" is deleted and "licensed as a Respiratory Care Practitioner by the Respiratory Care Board of California" is added as this is the correct title and the correct name of the board that licenses respiratory care practitioners. At the time the Department adopted this subsection no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a respiratory care therapist, and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organizations for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a respiratory care therapist when providing services in a general acute care hospital. In 1994 the Legislature enacted section 3704 of the Business and Professions Code, and created the Respiratory Care Board of California and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as a respiratory care therapist (Ch. 1274, Stats.1994). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as respiratory care therapists in a general acute care hospital be licensed by the Respiratory Care Board of California, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

Subsection 70055(a)(36) is renumbered as (a)(37)), and is amended to delete the word "Therapy" and add the word "Care" to the definition of respiratory technician. The phrase "Certified or eligible for certification as a respiratory therapy technician by the American Association of Respiratory Therapy or the National Board for Respiratory Therapy" is deleted and the phrase "licensed as a Respiratory Care Technician by the Respiratory Care Board of California" is added, as this is the correct title and the correct name of the board that licenses respiratory care technicians. At the time the Department adopted this subsection, no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a respiratory care technician and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organizations for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a respiratory care technician when providing services in a general acute care hospital. In 1994 the Legislature enacted section 3704 of the Business and Professions Code, and created the Respiratory Care Board of California and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as a respiratory care technician (Ch. 1274, Stats.1994). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as respiratory care technicians in a general acute care hospital be licensed by the Respiratory Care Board of California, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

Subsection 70055(a)(37) is renumbered as (a)(38) and is amended to change the name "Board of Behavioral Science Examiners," to "Board of Behavioral Sciences," the name of the board that licenses social workers. At the time the Department adopted section 70275(b), no statutory standards existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a dietetic services supervisor. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a dietetic services supervisor when providing services in a general acute care hospital. In 2008 the Legislature enacted section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be employed as a dietetic services supervisor (Ch. 225, Stats. 2008). Subsection 71053(a)(11) is renumbered as (a)(9), and is amended to delete the phrase "certified or eligible for certification as an occupational therapist registered by the American Occupational Therapy Association," and to add "licensed as an occupational therapist by the California Board of Occupational Therapy," the name of the board that licenses occupational therapists. At the time the Department adopted this subsection, no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be an occupational therapist, and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered an occupational therapist when providing services in an acute psychiatric hospital. In 2000 the Legislature enacted the Occupational Therapy Practice Act, sections 2570 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code, and created the California Board of Occupational Therapy and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as an occupational therapist (Ch. 986, Stats. 2000). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as occupational therapists in a acute psychiatric hospital be licensed by the California Board of Occupational Therapy, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

Subsection 71053(a)(12) is renumbered as (a)(10), and is amended to delete the phrase "certified or eligible for certification as a certified occupational therapy assistant by the American Occupational Therapy Association," and to add "licensed as an occupational therapy assistant by the California Board of Occupational Therapy," the name of the board that licenses occupational therapy assistants. At the time the Department adopted this subsection, no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be an occupational therapy assistant, and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered an occupational therapy assistant when providing services in an acute psychiatric hospital. In 2000 the Legislature enacted the Occupational Therapy Practice Act, sections 2570 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code, and created the California Board of Occupational Therapy and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as an occupational therapy assistant (Ch. 986, Stats. 2000). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as occupational therapy assistants in an acute psychiatric hospital be licensed by the California Board of Occupational Therapy, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

Section 71245. Dietetic Service Staff.

Subsection 71245(a) is amended to change "Registered dietician" to "A registered dietician," to make the phrase grammatically correct.

Subsection 71245(b) is amended by adding an "a" in front of "full-time" and "meets the training requirements to be a dietetic services supervisor specified in section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code," to conform to current law. The phrase "has completed a dietetic supervisor's training program meeting the requirements of Essentials of an Acceptable Program of Dietetic Assistant Education, revised June, 1974, by the American Dietetic Association, 430 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, IL 60611," and the sentence "This program or its equivalent shall be required on and after July 1, 1977" are deleted, as this language is no longer applicable. At the time the Department adopted section 71245(b), no statutory standards existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a dietetic services supervisor. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a dietetic services supervisor when providing services in an acute psychiatric hospital. In 2008 the Legislature enacted section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be employed as a dietetic services supervisor (Ch. 225, Stats. 2008). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as dietetic services supervisors in an acute psychiatric hospital meet the standards specified in section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

A note is added to the section to provide citations to the statutes that authorize the Department to adopt the regulation and references to the statutes being implemented.

Section 71547. Medical Records Service.

Section 71547(b) is amended to change "Registered Record Administrator" to "Registered Health Information Administrator" and "Accredited Record Technician" to "Registered Health Information Technician," the correct titles.

Section 72013. Audiologist.

Section 72013 is amended to change the name "Board of Medical Quality Assurance" to "Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology and Hearing Aid Dispensers Board," the name of the board that licenses audiologists, and to delete "or a person who has a master's degree in the field and is authorized to practice under the supervision of a licensed audiologist as outlined in Section 2530.5(f), Chapter 5.3, of the Business and Professions Code," as this language is no longer applicable. Section 2530.5(f) now requires that audiologists who are allowed to practice under that subsection be temporarily licensed by the board, and the Department is not permitted to allow audiologists who meet the specifications to practice unless they are so licensed; the reference to the qualifications in that section which suggests that an individual could use the title "audiologist" by simply meeting those qualifications without licensure is therefore meaningless. In order to practice within a skilled nursing facility as an audiologist, either permanent or temporary licensure by the Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology and Hearing Aid Dispensers Board is required. The word "such" is deleted from the phrase "licensed as such," and "an audiologist" is added to make the sentence read correctly.

The authority and reference note is updated to eliminate citations to repealed statutes, and to add citations to recently enacted or amended statutes.

Section 72035. Dietetic Service Supervisor.

Section 72035 is amended by adding the phrase "has completed the training requirements specified in section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code" to conform to current law. The phrase "meets one of the following requirements" and subsections (a) through (e) are deleted as this language is no longer applicable. At the time the Department adopted section 72035, no statutory standards existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a dietetic services supervisor. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the standard-setting organizations for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a dietetic services supervisor when providing services in a skilled nursing facility. In 2008 the Legislature enacted section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be employed as a dietetic services supervisor (Ch. 225, Stats. 2008). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as dietetic services supervisors in a skilled nursing facility meet the standards specified in section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

The authority and reference note is updated to eliminate citations to repealed statutes, and to add citations to recently enacted or amended statutes.

Section 72037. Dietitian.

Section 72037 is amended to add the phrase "registered dietitian who meets the qualifications specified in section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code" to conform to current law, and to delete the phrase "person who is registered or eligible for registration as such by the American Dietetic Association," as this language is no longer applicable. At the time the Department adopted section 72037, no statutory standards existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a dietitian. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a dietitian when providing services in a skilled nursing facility. In 1982 the Legislature enacted section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be able to represent himself or herself as a dietitian (Ch. 501, Stats. 1982). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as dietitians in a skilled nursing facility meet the standards specified in section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

The authority and reference note is updated to eliminate citations to repealed statutes, and to add citations to recently enacted or amended statutes.

Subsection 72075(b) is amended to delete the phrase "certified or eligible for certification as such by the American Occupational Therapy Association" and to add "licensed as an occupational therapy assistant by the California Board of Occupational Therapy," the name of the board that licenses occupational therapy assistants.

At the time the Department adopted section 72075, no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be an occupational therapist or an occupational therapy assistant, and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered an occupational therapist or an occupational therapy assistant when providing services in a skilled nursing facility. In 2000 the Legislature enacted the Occupational Therapy Practice Act, sections 2570 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code, and created the California Board of Occupational Therapy and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as an occupational therapist or an occupational therapy assistant (Ch. 986, Stats. 2000). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as occupational therapists or occupational therapy assistants in a skilled nursing facility be licensed by the California Board of Occupational Therapy, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

The Department therefore used the requirements set by the standard-setting organizations for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a dietetic services supervisor when providing services in a skilled nursing facility. In 2008 the Legislature enacted section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be employed as a dietetic services supervisor (Ch. 225, Stats. 2008). While the ability to serve as a social worker without having a license from the Board of Behavioral Science Examiners might have been permissible at the time the Department adopted the regulation, it was eliminated in 1985. In 1985 the Legislature enacted sections 4996 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code, specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as a social worker, and required that social workers be licensed by the Board of Behavioral Science Examiners (Ch. 820, Stats. 1985). At the time the Department adopted section 74623, no statutory standards existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a dietitian. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a dietitian when providing services in a home health agency. In 1982 the Legislature enacted section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be able to represent himself or herself as a dietitian (Ch. 501, Stats. 1982). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as dietitians in a home health agency meet the standards specified in section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement. (c) Is a graduate of a dietetic technician or dietetic assistant training program approved by the American Dietetic Association, or

(d) Is a graduate of a state-approved program that provides 90 or more hours of classroom instruction in food service supervision, or

(e) Has training and experience in food service supervision and management in a military service equivalent in content to (c) or (d) of the above," as this language is no longer applicable. At the time the Department adopted section 76808, no statutory standards existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be a dietetic services supervisor. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the standard-setting organizations for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a dietetic services supervisor when providing services in an intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled habilitative. In 2008 the Legislature enacted section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be employed as a dietetic services supervisor (Ch. 225, Stats. 2008). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as dietetic services supervisors in an intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled habilitative meet the standards specified in section 1265.4(b) of the Health and Safety Code, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered a dietitian when providing services in an intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled habilitative. In 1982 the Legislature enacted section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be able to represent himself or herself as a dietitian (Ch. 501, Stats. 1982). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as dietitians in an intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled habilitative meet the standards specified in section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

Section 76825 is amended to delete the phrase "registered or is eligible for registration as such by the American Occupational Therapy Association," and to insert "licensed as an occupational therapist by the California Board of Occupational Therapy," the name of the board that licenses occupational therapists. At the time the Department adopted section 76825, no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be an occupational therapist, and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organization for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered an occupational therapist when providing services in an intermediate care facility/developmentally disabled habilitative. In 2000 the Legislature enacted the Occupational Therapy Practice Act, sections 2570 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code, and created the California Board of Occupational Therapy and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as an occupational therapist (Ch. 986, Stats. 2000). In 1982 the Legislature enacted section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be able to represent himself or herself as a dietitian (Ch. 501, Stats. 1982). Section 78097. Social Worker.

Section 78097 is amended to delete the language "or a person who has a master's degree from an accredited school of social work," as this qualification may no longer substitute for licensure as a social worker. In 1982 the Legislature enacted section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code to specify the requirements an individual needed to meet to be able to represent himself or herself as a dietitian (Ch. 501, Stats. 1982). At the time the Department adopted section 79523, the Department mistakenly used the definition of dietitian that existed in other chapters of Division 5 of Title 22, rather than the statutory definition in section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code that the Legislature had enacted in 1982 (Ch. 501, Stats. 1982). The Department is therefore correcting this oversight and amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as dietitians in a correctional treatment center meet the standards specified in section 2585 of the Business and Professions Code, and to eliminate the qualifications currently specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

The word

"licensed" is added to "clinical social worker," as "licensed clinical social worker "is the correct title. At the time the Department adopted section 79539, the Department mistakenly used the definition of social worker that existed in other chapters of Division 5 of Title 22, rather than the statutory definition in sections 4996 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code that the Legislature had adopted in 1985 (Ch. 820, Stats. 1985). The Department is therefore correcting this oversight and amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as social workers in a correctional treatment center meet the standards specified in sections 4996 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code and be licensed by the Board of Behavioral Sciences, and to eliminate the qualifications currently specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.

It is also amended to change "by" to "from" to make the sentence grammatically correct, and to change the name "Board of Behavioral Science Examiners" to "Board of Behavioral Sciences," the name of the board that licenses marriage and family therapists. The section is also amended to delete the phrase "who possesses a master's degree from a school meeting the requirements of Sections 4980.37, 4980.40 and 4980.41 of the Business and Professions Code and 3000 hours of supervised experience in a mental health setting, or," as this language describes qualifications that the Board of Behavioral Sciences considers when deciding whether to license an individual or register the individual as an intern, and may no longer be considered by the Department as a substitute for licensing by the board.

Section 79551. Occupational Therapist.

Section 79551 is amended to delete the language "certified or eligible for certification as an occupational therapist registered by the American Occupational Therapy Association. The occupational therapist shall be a graduate of a curriculum in Occupational Therapy approved by the Council on Education of the American Medical Association in collaboration with the American Occupational Therapy Association," and to insert "licensed as an occupational therapist by the California Board of Occupational Therapy," the name of the board that licenses occupational therapists. At the time the Department adopted section 79551, no licensing board existed to determine the requirements that an individual had to meet to be an occupational therapist, and no statutory standards existed to set those requirements. The Department therefore used the requirements set by the national standard-setting organizations for the profession to determine whether an individual met the qualifications to be considered an occupational therapist when providing services in a correctional treatment center. In 2000 the Legislature enacted the Occupational Therapy Practice Act, sections 2570 et seq. of the Business and Professions Code, and created the California Board of Occupational Therapy and specified the requirements an individual needed to meet to be licensed as an occupational therapist (Ch. 986, Stats. 2000). The Department is therefore amending the regulation so it conforms to the statutory mandate that individuals performing services as occupational therapists in a correctional treatment center be licensed by the California Board of Occupational Therapy, and to eliminate the qualifications earlier specified in the regulation that no longer apply, and that are not within the Department's authority to implement.
