

Application for Individuals

The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) is proud to host the Asthma Management Academy (AsMA). AsMA is one of CDPH's strategies to reduce the burden of asthma in the most highly impacted communities. The curriculum meets the unique needs of non-licensed members of the asthma care team, such as community health workers (CHWs) and promotores.

We are currently accepting applications for our Asthma 101 Series in English and Spanish which consist of five two-and-one-half-hour sessions over the course of five weeks. Modules include:

- the basics of asthma
- trigger identification and reduction
- medications
- medication delivery devices
- assessment and monitoring

Attendees will also receive an asthma educator training kit with demonstration inhalers, spacer, peak flow meter, sample cleaning bucket with asthma-friendly cleaning supplies, and more. Upon completion participants will receive certificates from the Association of Asthma Educators and CDPH. Space is limited for this training offered at no cost for those who qualify.

Sessions are currently planned for 2017 in southern California. Applications will be considered for other California areas once future sessions are planned.

Please tell us a little about yourself on the next page.
