JUSTIFICATION OF SECTION 100 RULEMAKING

AUTHORITY
The California Department of Public Health (Department) proposes to amend the fee for the application for Lead-Related Construction (LRC) certification in the California Code of Regulations (CCR), title 17, section 35095. The amendment is proposed as a “change without regulatory effect” under CCR, title 1, section 100.

The proposed regulatory change is necessary in order to address Health & Safety Code (HSC) section 105250.1 (Assembly Bill 1810, Stats. 2018, Ch. 34, Sec. 11) which increases, beginning July 1, 2018, the LRC Program fee to cover the administrative costs in connection with the initial certification and annual renewal of individuals certified to perform LRC work in California from $75.00 to $87.00.

In 1994, the Legislature established the LRC Program within the Department in order to meet the requirements of the federal Residential Lead-Based Paint Hazard Reduction Act of 1992 (Act). (Health & Saf. Code, § 105250.)

In accordance with the federal Act, the Department is required and authorized to administer a residential lead-based paint hazard reduction program and to adopt and amend regulations implementing the certification of individuals trained to perform LRC work in the state (Health & Saf. Code, § 105250, subd. (b)). Section 35095 of CCR, title 17, currently identifies the certification fee of $75.00 for initial certification and annual renewal, established by regulation in 1993.

DETAILED DISCUSSION OF THE REGULATION
Section 35095: Has been amended to update the application fee for LRC certification from $75.00 to $87.00, and to update the date of form CDPH 8488, Application for Lead Certification, which was revised to reflect the application fee increase. These changes are necessary in order to comply with the requirements of HSC section 105250.1. The increased fee will help in reducing certification application turnaround times, and will decrease complaints from frustrated contractors.

Since the section is open for revision, reference to the outdated term “interim certification” has been removed since section 35093 of CCR, title 17, limited applications for interim certification through August 30, 1998, and applications for renewal of interim certification ended December 31, 1998. Individuals who possessed interim certificates with expiration dates after April 30, 1999, were not eligible to renew their interim certificate(s) and were required to take and pass the Department’s certification examination to be eligible to apply for certification.

Additional nonsubstantive changes were made to form CDPH 8488. In section 5 “Cooperative Personnel Services” is now referred to as “CPS HR.” Other nonsubstantive grammatical changes have also been made and the authority and references cited have been updated to identify the new statute.
