The Alzheimer's Association is the national voluntary health agency dedicated to providing support and assistance to afflicted persons and their families, and to research for the prevention, cure, and treatment of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders. Services include family caregiver support groups, telephone help lines for information and referrals, caregiver and professional education programs, newsletters, and speakers' bureaus. The national office can be reached by calling 1-800-272-3900.

The Alzheimer's Association offers a wide variety of educational resources for non-English speaking audiences, including a Spanish language website. The Association's 24 hour/7 day nationwide Contact Center features more than 140 languages and dialects (1-800-272-3900). Outreach efforts and partnerships with the National Council of La Raza and the National Urban League deliver culturally appropriate information, education and referral services.
