

Rural Health Clinic Application Instructions for Initial and Change of Ownership Applications

To receive a health facility certification in California, an applicant must fully complete the required application forms and submit them with all of the identified supporting documents. The Centralized Applications Branch (CAB) will not process incomplete applications. Refer to the sample application packet to assist in completing an Initial or Change of Ownership (CHOW) application.

These instructions assist in preparing a Rural Health Clinic Initial or CHOW application for licensure.

Please read each required application form carefully and:

- Provide all requested supporting documents
- Retain a copy of the completed application forms and supporting documents – CAB may contact the applicant and will refer to the information provided

Review Process

CAB receives an application packet and assigns an application ID number in the Electronic Licensing Management System. A CAB analyst conducts a preliminary review of the application packet to validate receipt of all required forms and supporting documents.

Application packets missing forms and/or supporting documents are incomplete. CAB will only process complete applications.

Once validation is complete, a CAB analyst notifies the provider to submit the payment needed to process the application packet and conducts a more extensive review to ensure compliance with state and federal requirements.

The CAB analyst completes the review process and approves the application packet, then sends the application packet to the district office to conduct all required surveys.
